

Willie L. Brown, Jr. Fellowship Program
Co-Directors

Dr. Jennifer Shea is Associate Professor of Public Administration and Associate Director of the School of Public Affairs and Civic Engagement at San Francisco State University. In that role, Dr. Shea oversees the Master of Public Administration Program and nonprofit management studies. Dr. Shea conducts research and publishes work focused on community-engaged scholarship, nonprofit intermediaries, nonprofit finance, program implementation and evaluation, organizational learning, social innovation, and the scholarship of teaching and learning. Her work appears in several scholarly journals, including Journal of Poverty, Journal of Public Affairs Education, Nonprofit & Voluntary Sector Quarterly, and Public Administration Review. Prior to earning her Ph.D. in Public Policy from the University of Massachusetts at Boston, Dr. Shea served in development and managerial positions at several domestic and international nonprofit organizations, including the CARE Foundation, InterAction, Oxfam America, and Share Our Strength.

Dr. Tony Sparks is an Associate Professor of Urban Studies and Planning at San Francisco State University where he serves as the faculty advisor to the Urban Action Journal and USP student Organization. He received his MA in Cultural Studies from Claremont Graduate University and his PhD in Geography from the University of Washington. His research and teaching interests fall at the intersection of poverty, law, and social policy with a particular emphasis on homelessness and housing informality. In both teaching and research, Dr. Sparks emphasizes participatory research and community engaged scholarship. He has published several articles on the implications and complications of life in a homeless encampment in Seattle Washington. His current research focuses on the legal regulation of the of the informally housed in San Francisco.